The Peabody Brass Ensemble

The Peabody Brass Ensemble is the premier brass ensemble of the Peabody Institute of the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. The ensemble draws from nearly 50 brass players at the school and regularly performs at Peabody's prestigious Thursday Noon Recital Series and Brass Bash Recitals throughout the year.

James Olin

Peabody Brass Ensemble director, James Olin, is co-principal trombone with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra as well as the brass coordinator and adjunct professor of trombone at the Peabody Institute. Mr. Olin holds degrees from Northwestern University and the Interlochen Arts Academy. He has performed with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Chicago Lyric Opera, and the Grand Teton Music Festival and has taught for many years at the Asian Youth Orchestra and the National Orchestral Institute.

Maryland Band Directors Band

The Maryland Band Directors Band was created in 2011 by Dr. Vincent Patterson, several teachers from the Montgomery County Public Schools, and the Montgomery College Arts Institute, in conjunction with Montgomery College's Workforce Development and Continuing Education division, the Montgomery County Public Schools, and the College's Rockville Music Department. It is a unique and valuable professional development class for music teachers.

Most members are music teachers from MCPS, private schools, and surrounding county schools, but there are also several outstanding community players and students from MC who have been accepted by audition.

MCPS teachers who have the Advanced Professional Certificate earn continuing education units applicable to recertification requirements. There are six rehearsals and two concerts per semester.

In addition, the Professional Development Workshops & Institutes program at The Catholic University of America offers a 3-credit graduate course, "Methods and Materials for Music Teachers," which uses membership in the Maryland Band Directors Band (or the Montgomery College Chorus) as a core element of the course. These graduate credits are applicable toward teacher recertification, a Master's Equivalency status, or salary lane changes.

Vincent Patterson

Dr. Vincent Patterson, a former member of the U.S. Marine Band, The President's Own, in Washington, D.C., is the founder and director of the Maryland Band Directors Band. He earned the Doctor of Musical Arts in conducting from Catholic University where he studied with outstanding teachers/conductors, including Frederick Fennell and Robert Garafalo. His degrees in instrumental performance and music education are from Millikin University. After enlisting in the U.S. Army, he taught for three years at the Armed Forces School of Music in Norfolk, Virginia, before being accepted into the U.S. Marine Band.
