OCTOBER 26–30, 2026

HUMANITIES IN ACTION: COLLABORATION, SOLIDARITY, AND HOPE

This year's theme explores how the humanities serve as a catalyst across different spaces. By fostering collaboration among people with diverse perspectives, the humanities can bring about social change, promote solidarity in the face of injustice, and inspire hope for a more peaceful and just world.

We invite students, faculty, staff, administrators, and community members to share their research, teaching, service, creativity, or hands-on activities that contribute to this theme.
